Welfare State Approaches, Aiding Inflation

You read on this page yesterday an AP dispatch from Washington reporting that the Nixon administration and Democratic Senator Abraham A. Ribicoff have apparently reached a compromise which may put the welfare reform bill through the Senate.

Nixon had asked a guarantee of $2,400 a year for a family of four, and aid for the first time for the working poor. The Ribicoff compromise would raise the welfare figure to $3,000 to begin with, and $4,000 after three years.

Ribicoff is important in this issue because, in the words of the wire dispatch:

"He is chief spokesman for a coalition of 14 governors, 25 senators, hundreds of mayors and county officials, and dozens of such organizations as the AFL-CIO."

That's a formidable lineup that augurs trouble for the average working citizen. It indicates clearly that what started off as a benevolent program for the needy has now become a political football.

It casts doubt on the proclaimed intention of both Republicans and Democrats to balance the U.S. budget and halt inflation. What we do for the needy might not be a disaster in itself, but it becomes so when coupled with a still more sinister development.

I have here on my desk a tear-sheet from the Wall Street Journal dated Aug. 4, 1971, reporting that federal employees' salaries have risen faster than industry's—75 per cent over the last nine years.

Put these two developments together and you find a public thoroughly disillusioned with official claims that inflation is to be stopped.

Officials give you words—but they spend the taxpayer's money like water, encouraging, not curbing, inflation.

Red Peace Plan Reaction Hopeful

By KENNETH J. FREED

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Positive reactions from some Communist nations to President Nixon's peace plan have given the administration added hope for a negotiated settlement.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers made two references to this in an unscheduled news conference Thursday and other department officials elaborated later in response to questions.

The secretary at one point said, "I think that the American people and people generally throughout the world—and this applies to Communist countries as well in some instances—feel that the President of the United States has gone as far as he possibly could."

At a later point he told reporters:

"The enemy indicates some interest in the proposals. And we have diplomatic conversations with others that indicate they think the President's proposal might be a way out."

Department sources said the secretary was referring to some Communist nations, among others, in that statement, although they declined to give any identification.

They gave as an example a report in which an official of one European Communist nation, described as having good relations with China, said it is difficult now to refute that Nixon is trying to end the war.

Rogers previously said on behalf of the administration the fact North Vietnam had not rejected the Nixon proposal was a hopeful sign.

He repeated this Thursday and underlined it with his statement that world response could mean "the other side may feel that it would be the best course to follow to enter into meaningful negotiations."

And, Rogers said, even though the Thursday statement by North Vietnamese envoys in Paris was largely repeats of past positions, "in some instances they could be considered clarification...."

One departmental source said this was encouraging at least to the point of indicating a sort of dialogue keeping the possibility of negotiations alive.

The Vietnamese presentation was given another interpretation by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, who said it was another indication that President Nixon's proposals had indeed been rejected.

Muskie's latest stand on the of you that if I am elected again to the Treasurer's Office, I will continue to devote my time and efforts in fulfilling the duties of this office in a proper and efficient manner.

I am deeply grateful to the citizens of Hempstead County for the splendid support you have given me in the past, and I will appreciate your vote and support in the coming Democratic Primary Election.

Says Pryor Will Run for the Senate

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., told a group of El Dorado businessmen Thursday that he would run for U.S. senator, according to Charles Travis, news director at television station KTVE in El Dorado.

Travis said he was told by an "unimpeachable source" who attended a meeting that the congressman would make a formal announcement in his home town, Camden, on or by March 1.

Newsman were ordered out of the meeting, which had not been announced.

Travis said he learned of the meeting, held at an El Dorado motel, and when he and a photographer walked into the session, they were told to leave.

A Pryor press aide said later that the remarks being made by the congressman to the businessmen were off the record.

More Recognition for Bangladesh

LONDON (AP) — Britain, West Germany and a number of other West European nations recognized Bangladesh today.

Sir Alec Douglas-Home, Britain's foreign secretary, announced British recognition to the House of Commons shortly before leaving for a visit to India.

It appeared likely that he would also go to Dacca, the capital of Bangladesh, to confer with Prime Minister Mujibur Rahman.

Shortly after Sir Alec spoke, West Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland announced their recognition of the young nation carved by war from Pakistan last December.

Diplomatic sources in Brussels said three other members of the European Common Market—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—would join in shortly but France and Italy were delaying.

Douglas-Home said Britain's decision to recognize Sheikh Mujib's government "recognises the reality of what has happened in the area over the past month (and) will be the beginning for us of a new era of friendship and cooperation with all the countries of the subcontinent."

The entire Soviet bloc with the exception of Romania has recognized the new nation. But U.S. government spokesmen have said the United States has no immediate plans to accord recognition.

Britain's recognition had been expected since President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto pulled Pakistan out of the British Commonwealth last Sunday.

U.S. Unemployment Rate Declines in Past Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate edged down from 6 to 5.9 per cent last month, the government reported today.

Although the actual number of jobs increased 752,000 to 5,447,000, it usually increases much more in January and the Labor Department figured it as a decline of 54,000 on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The nation's total employment rose 240,000 to 80,636,000 on a seasonal basis, although the unadjusted figures showed a drop of more than one million.

The report, by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said nonfarm payroll employment on a seasonal basis reached an all-time high of 71.4 million.

"Employment has advanced strongly since last summer," the bureau said.

The bureau said the January unemployment figures represented essentially no change.

The report also said average hourly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose three cents an hour to $3.53, but that a larger than usual cut in the length of the average work week reduced weekly earnings to $129.20, a drop of $1.35 from December.

It said weekly earnings were up $7.32 or 6 per cent over the past year. Inflation of 3.4 per cent over the same period reduced the gain to $2.93.

The average work week dropped 18 minutes to 36.9 hours, the report said.

The biggest drop was in manufacturing where the work week fell off 24 minutes to 36.9 hours.

The report said the jobless rate for men declined slightly from 4.3 to 4.2 per cent for a total of 2,485,000.

IRA to Stay Clear

By COLIN FROST

Associated Press Writer

BELFAST (AP) — An officer of the Irish Republican Army said today that the anti-British guerrillas would steer clear of the British troops ordered to disperse a Roman Catholic mourning march Sunday in Newry.

"We plan to keep well away," an officer of the IRA's militant Provisional wing told local newspapers. "It would be distinctly unwise for us to go into a situation like this where we would run the risk of arrest or shooting by the soldiers."

Up to 30,000 demonstrators are expected to join the march. The Civil Rights Association is organizing it as a tribute to the 13 Catholic civilians killed when British paratroopers broke up another banned procession in Londonderry last Sunday.

All public processions are banned in Northern Ireland, and the British army warned that its soldiers would break up the Newry march by force if necessary. The army brought in 550 more infantrymen, boosting its strength in the province to 15,000 troops.

The Civil Rights Association appealed to IRA gunmen to stay away.

"We do not want any trouble-makers in our ranks," a spokesman said. "If there is any violence it must be made clear that it comes only from the British army."

Meanwhile, Catholics rioted for four hours in the Lower Falls district of Belfast, and army patrols were the target of stones, bottles and bullets.

A military spokesman said the soldiers shot four snipers, but it was not known if any were killed.

In Lurgan, 20 miles southwest of Belfast, troops dispersed rival mobs of Protestants and Catholics who were threatening a street battle.

Bombers Again Hit Inside N. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPEY

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers today made their 35th strike inside North Vietnam this year, attacking an antiaircraft battery that fired on an unarmed reconnaissance plane, the U.S. Command announced.

A spokesman, Capt. James D'Entremont, said results of the raid by several F4 Phantoms were not known because of thick smoke over the target area, 10 miles north of the Ban Karai Pass and 45 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone.

He said there was no damage to the reconnaissance plane or its escorts.

The 35 "protective reaction" strikes in five weeks this year compare with 108 reported for all of 1971 and 21 in 1970.

In the ground war, sharp fighting broke out Thursday in the Mekong Delta for the third time this week, and field reports said nine South Vietnamese troops were killed and 16 wounded.

SAIGON'S forces reported 14 enemy soldiers killed in the fighting at three points 110 to 140 miles southwest of Saigon.

The action occurred in and around the U Minh forest, a longtime staging area for Viet Cong and North Vietnamese attacks in the delta.

Fighting also flared closer to Saigon. Viet Cong gunners fired three rocket grenades into a South Vietnamese navy boat loaded with militiamen 15 miles southwest of Saigon, killing one of them and wounding 10.

Fifteen miles farther south, an explosive device in a radio blew up and killed the man carrying it into a theater, the South Vietnamese command said. Eleven members of the audience were wounded.

In two small clashes north of Saigon, 100 enemy and one government soldier were killed and 20 tons of rice were captured, spokesmen said.

U.S. officials continued to talk of a North Vietnamese buildup along the western side of the central highlands, but there still was no major fighting.

Government forces said they killed 10 North Vietnamese 30 miles west of Pleiku and 11 more in an ambush in Phu Yen Province seven miles southwest of the coastal city of Tuy Hoa.

U.S. B52 bombers again concentrated their raids in southern Laos against the Ho Chi Minh supply network.

The firm had filed the claim charging that it had lost the $13,543 because of negligence by the secretary of state's office.

Associated Wholesale said that on Aug. 8, 1968, it accepted for membership in its association Park Hill AG store in North Little Rock.

The firm said before entering into an agreement with Park Hill AG, it requested from the secretary of state's office a lien search certificate to determine whether anyone else had a claim on Park Hill's inventory.

Associated Wholesale said it was told by the secretary of state's office that no lien existed. But in 1969, Park Hill began to have financial problems and in preparation for filing suit to recover articles it had sold the store, Associated Wholesale said it asked for another lien search certificate. The company said the second certificate also showed that no one else had a perfected security interest in Park Hill.

However, when Associated Grocery filed suit to recover the inventory, Worthen Bank & Trust Co. intervened, alleging the bank held a prior security interest in the Park Hill stock.

Fouke Monster Subject of Movie

By DALA MCKINSEY

Associated Press Writer

FOUKE, Ark. (AP) — The monster that put this Miller County town of 304 residents on the map is going to be the subject of a full-length motion picture, "Tracking the Fouke Monster," to be released this spring.

Charles Pierce, who is producing the movie, says it will not be a tongue-in-cheek look at the monster.

While the matter has been treated lightly by some, with even more than 100 "Fouke Forever" T-shirts being distributed by Little Rock Radio Station KAAV, Pierce does not think it is a laughing matter.

"I believe that the people in Fouke are fine Christian people," he said. "Most of them would not tell you a story."

"There has been a lot of humiliation and joking because people are laughing about it," Pierce said. "We intend, under no instances, to humiliate those people. We are going to tell it as they tell it to us, with them on the set."

Not only are the Fouke residents going to advise the producers of the film—they are going to do some acting.

However, the monster is not going to be used.

He has not shown himself in several months. Or at least if he has, Fouke residents have been reluctant to discuss him with newsmen.

For scenes that call for the monster, a man is dressed in a gorilla suit, but a spokesman for P and L Productions in Texarkana, who are making the movie, say that they are only using the shadow of the monster.

The Fouke monster came to the attention of news media last spring when Bobby Ford, 25, and his family moved into a home at the north edge of Fouke on U.S. 71.

One evening Ford claims that the monster stuck a hairy paw through a window at the house and took a swipe at his wife, who was lying on a couch.

Reagan Lashes Judge for Welfare Ruling

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — With the sharpest criticism he has ever used publicly against the courts, Gov. Ronald Reagan has denounced a judge and the judge's recent welfare ruling.

Reagan accused Sacramento Superior Court Judge William Gallagher of "sheer obstructionism...unconscionable, indeed a flagrant violation of public trust...totally unfair...judicial misconduct."

Gallagher issued a temporary restraining order Monday that prevents state officials from checking on the income of welfare recipients unless the individual consents. The checks were begun last December as part of Reagan's 85-point welfare reform program.

Reagan said Gallagher's order was issued before the state had a chance to present its position, adding the state was not even told of the order until Thursday.

"Such action is totally unfair to the taxpayers of California since it fails to afford them due process of law. Such judicial misconduct certainly reinforces the public's low opinion of our court system," Reagan said.

He called it "sheer obstructionism that goes far beyond the discretion of the court." He also announced the state would appeal the ruling.

San Francisco Neighborhood Legal Assistance, a federally funded legal aid organization, filed the action against the state on behalf of Golden Gate Welfare Rights, Inc.

The order enjoins the State Department of Social Welfare from checking with the State Department of Human Resources and Development on outside earnings or income of welfare recipients.

The agencies began to exchange data when the welfare department's new computerized Earnings Clearance Reports System was started in December.

Asks Lawyer Fee Rehearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lawyer Kenneth C. Coffelt of Jacksonville asked Thursday for a state Supreme Court rehearing on the court's rejection of his challenge to the law practice fee hike.

The court last November raised the fee, effective this year, from $2 to $17, saying additional funds were needed to pay for a fulltime executive secretary to the Committee on Professional Conduct.

Last month the court rejected Coffelt's challenge. The court said Amendment 28 to the state Constitution gave it responsibility to regulate the conduct of lawyers and, therefore, implicitly carried with it authority to take steps necessary to fulfill that responsibility.

Coffelt's petition for rehearing said it was "indeed strange that of all the distinguished judges the people have been fortunate to have had on the court" since the amendment's adoption 34 years ago "it is just now being judicially determined by the present judges of this court that the court's action is now mandatory under the amendment, regardless of the wishes of the bar."

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Andy Horujko, the 50-year-old farmer who walked 15,000 miles from Alaska to Tierra del Fuego to protest pollution, returned to his home town of Chase Thursday to write a book about his adventures.

"My advice to anyone else is not to do it," said Horujko, a bachelor. "You need such a great deal of knowledge about technical skills—such as learning that walking in boots with heels consumes energy."

It took Horujko 15 pairs of heelless boots and nearly two years to make his hike, averaging about 33 miles a day. He carried about 30 pounds of clothing and spent about $5,000.

Muskie Defies Critics by Renewing Attack

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL, Associated Press Writer

Defying a host of Republicans who have chastised him for criticizing President Nixon's latest peace proposals, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has renewed his attack on the President for not unilaterally setting a date for complete withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam.

On the campaign trail in Wisconsin, the Maine Democrat Thursday issued a statement responding to the latest GOP criticism—from Secretary of State William P. Rogers hours earlier, who, said Muskie, harmed the national interest by rejecting Nixon's plan before Hanoi did.

"For years," Muskie said, "every time an American senator has made a proposal to bring this war to an end earlier, he has been greeted with the same response from our government as Secretary Rogers used today.

"It is apparent that the other side will not accept the terms the administration has set," Muskie continued, adding: "I believe they would respond seriously to the terms I have suggested."

Muskie said Wednesday release of U.S. prisoners of war and safety of the troops should be the only conditions attached to setting a withdrawal date.

Rogers' denunciation of Muskie's view as "most inappropriate and harmful to the nation's interest" followed similar criticism from presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and several Republicans in Congress.

And a source close to the White House indicated more of the same probably would be forthcoming today at an appearance in New Hampshire by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton.

Another Democratic presidential aspirant, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, told the Women's National Democratic Club Thursday: "I was sorry to see Sen. Muskie take the position he did."

In an apparent reference to escalation of the war under recent Democratic presidents, Jackson said the Democrats "have a special responsibility to help get the war over."

In other political developments:

MUSKIE: Later Thursday night Muskie engaged in a heated exchange with hooting and hissing antiwar protesters when he attempted to discuss questions on which they demanded answers—the Vietnam war, and whether marijuana and abortions should be legalized. Muskie said the reception at a Madison, Wis., hotel was the most hostile he had encountered since his vice presidential campaign days.

Dockworkers Oppose Strike Legislation

By JOHN BECKLER, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor today opposed and employers supported legislation proposed by President Nixon to end the West Coast dock strike by compulsory arbitration.

Harry Bridges, President of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU), told Congress that his striking dock workers will return to work only if they elect to do so by secret ballot.

Edmund J. Flynn, president of the Pacific Maritime Association representing the steamship and stevedoring companies, said chances for a voluntary settlement of the dispute are not good. Flynn said a tribunal to hear and settle this dispute is essential.

Bridges and Flynn appeared by subpoena before a special subcommittee of the House Labor Committee headed by Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J.

Bridges said the parties to the dispute are close together and he urged that Congress let them settle it.

He denied there is an emergency in Hawaii, where he said the union has made special provisions to handle the export of sugar and has permitted special voyages to bring in necessary supplies.

"The emergency has been manufactured in the facile minds of some of the members of Congress from that state—and in the mind of the present assistant secretary of Labor who was formerly employed by the Hawaii Employers Council."

Bridges said the principal items in disagreement are the effective date of the wage increase of 72 cents an hour, which the union wants retroactive to Nov. 14; paid holidays; employer-paid prescription drugs for employees; an increase in insurance coverage and wages for certain skilled differentials.

Thompson and his subcommittee are under a double-barreled gun to produce legislation that will end the long tieup that began July 1, ran 100 days and resumed Jan. 17 after expiration of an 80-day injunction obtained by President Nixon.

Nixon is demanding swift passage of a bill that would settle the dispute by compulsory arbitration and Republicans are bringing Farm Belt pressures on Congress to accept it. Farmers, their West Coast exports cut off and crops spoiling, are among the hardest hit by the strike.

Thompson is also feeling heat from impatient House members who are threatening to override him and bring the bill directly to the House floor for a vote. The Senate is waiting to see what the House does.

"I will have a piece of legislation of one kind or another by next week," Thompson said Thursday night in response to newsmen's questions.

He said it would not be the administration's bill, but declined to say what form the legislation would take. "It will end the strike," he said, "and it will be more than just another time extension."

Nixon asked Congress Jan. 21 to pass, within a week, a bill that would create a three-member arbitration board empowered to issue a settlement binding for 18 months, during which there could be no strikes.

He also has been requesting for the past two years permanent legislation to prevent crippling strikes in the transportation industry.

Arkla Told to Show Cost

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission Thursday told Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to file a detailed report on its cost of serving all customers during 1971.

The PSC had directed the utility on Sept. 30 to file a cost-of-service report for the one-year period that ended that day to guide the agency in determining new rates for Arkla customers.

Arkla filed a report Dec. 5, but the PSC said that did not comply with its order. The PSC changed its order to have the study cover the year 1971 and set out in detail the information it wanted.

Cold Exercise Delayed

IOLA, Kan. (AP) — A Kansas National Guard cold weather training exercise has been postponed by cold weather.

Near-zero temperatures froze the Neosho River and postponed for the second straight week the Guard's float trip down the river as a cold weather training exercise.

Officials said the four-day trip will begin the first Friday the river is clear of ice.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Davis replaced the late Pete Duel in the part of Hannibal Heyes in ABC's "Alias Smith and Jones" Thursday night.

Viewer-performer relationships in the intimate medium of television are peculiarly close and it is difficult for the viewer to accept cast changes easily.

Davis, an attractive young actor with an infectious grin, was an excellent choice as mid-season replacement for Duel.

He handled the part with a feeling for light comedy and a certain jauntyness. His first appearance came in a rather amusing story—another in the series that was very reminiscent of "Maverick." It included poker, counterfeit money and a dishonest banker. As usual the two outlaws trying to go straight pulled off a crooked caper that left them unsullied but still broke.

No matter how engaging the scripts, however, chances are small that "Alias Smith and Jones" will survive beyond this season. Its ratings have been distressingly low in the time slot opposite the popular "Flip Wilson Show."

With networks sending out cancellation notices, presumably the "Alias Smith and Jones" cast and crew are steeling for theirs. Word comes from Hollywood that NBC's "James Garner as Nichols" another Western in the "Maverick" mold, already has received its bad news.

Other programs considered to be candidates for TV's boot hill at the end of March are "The Jimmy Stewart Show" on NBC—the star is reported to be so disappointed in the series he won't even talk about it—plus ABC's "The Persuaders" and "Bewitched." CBS is expecting to dispatch "My Three Sons" and "Arnie," and the fate of "O'Hara—U.S. Treasury" is up in the air.

An authoritative background briefing, called "China: An Open Door?" that covers the history, conflicts and final emergence beyond the Great Wall, will be broadcast on more than 125 stations across the nation next week. It will help the viewer put into context President Nixon's forthcoming trip to China.

The program is narrated by John Roderick, who has spent a professional lifetime as an Associated Press correspondent in the Orient.

The hour-long documentary is a compilation of archive film and material shot during the visit of the Ping Pong team, which Roderick accompanied, and it represents the entrance of The Associated Press, in collaboration with Mizlou Productions, into the field of television documentaries.

Fewer Tax Returns Examined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fewer individual and corporate tax returns were examined last year than in 1970 under the audit program of the Internal Revenue Service.

Only one of every 56 individual income-tax returns was audited in 1971, compared to one out of 46 the year before, the fiscal 1971 report of IRS Commissioner Johnnie R. Walters disclosed today.

Lest taxpayers think this means it is getting easier to cheat, however, the report shows that the computer-aided system of selecting the right returns for examination resulted in a bigger cash gain for the Treasury. Computers rank returns according to error potential; those with the highest probability of error are selected for audit.

Some $3.4 billion in additional tax payments resulted from the 1971 audits of individual and corporate returns, or $300 million more than a year earlier, even though about 350,000 fewer returns were chosen for examination by revenue agents.

The diminishing percentage of returns audited has caused concern at IRS, however, and President Nixon asked for more money for IRS in his budget message last week.

Nixon asked enough funds for processing 2.1 million more returns in fiscal 1973 than in the current fiscal year, and earmarked an additional $10.7 million for manpower "to audit a greater number of tax returns."

The report showed that two-thirds of all taxpayers have more tax withheld than they owe each year. In fiscal 1971, nearly 56 million taxpayers received $19.9 billion in refunds. The average refund was $340, compared to $293 in the previous year.

More than 111 million returns were filed, but for the first time since 1969, the number of individual filings declined. This was because the Tax Reform Act of 1969 exempted millions of lower-income taxpayers from filing.

Walters' report showed that 1,346,000 individual returns were audited in fiscal 1971, compared with 1,672,000 in 1970. About $900 million in additional taxes was gained in 1971, slightly more than in 1970.

Only 130,000 corporation returns were audited in 1971, or 30,000 fewer than in 1970. But the 1971 audits resulted in $1.94 billion in the previous year.

The report said one in 16 made errors in arithmetic or used the wrong tax table in preparing their returns last year, compared to 1 in 12 the previous year.

Promises No AM&N Changes

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Tom McCall president of the Student Government Association at Arkansas AM&N College, said Thursday the SGA was expanding its boycott of merchants in protest of the merger July 1 of the predominantly Negro college with the University of Arkansas.

McCall said the boycott was being expanded to include downtown merchants at Pine Bluff and stores in the city's two shopping centers. Earlier McCall announced a boycott of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Southeast Arkansas.

He said that according to the latest figures available, AM&N students spent more than $5.5 million in Pine Bluff in 1968.

"Finesses never work for me," m o a n e d South. "I guess I made my last important finesse some time in the '50s."

"Instead of trying finesesses why don't you just give the cards a chance," suggested North. "You have just thrown a cinch slam out the window."

"I had no way to know that East held the king of clubs," said South. "Also if I had run all my trumps to try for an end play East would have chuckled his high hearts."

"Who said anything about an end play," roared North. "The slam was right there in top cards."

North was right and South had made his own bad luck. South had gone up with dummy's ace of hearts; played a few rounds of trumps and tried the club finesse. He didn't need to.

At trick two South should have cashed the ace of spades. A trump lead to dummy's six would come next. Then South would lead a low spade from dummy and ruff it. The jack and 10 of spades would have fallen by this time. South would then go to dummy with the king of trumps to lead the queen of spades. East would show out and South would discard his losing heart. West would take his king but the nine of spades would be there for a club discard.

Republican Women Meet

"Republican Activities on the State Level" was the topic of the program brought by Mrs. Jerri Pruden, Arkansas Republican Women's President, Tuesday, February 1, when the Hempstead County G.O.P. Women met in the home of Mrs. Helen Hatch.

Mrs. Pruden gave the group assembled a copy of the agenda followed by the State Republican Executive Committee in one of their monthly meetings. She commented that the business sessions were very well organized and usually took most of the day to cover all the items thoroughly.

She discussed the United Republican Fund and reported that Hempstead County had reached their goal for funds in late December. Other fund raising events over the state were mentioned, one of which will be the Lincoln Day Dinner in El Dorado on February 12, where Haskell Jones of Hope will be the featured speaker.

Of special interest to the group was Mrs. Pruden's report on the National Republican Women's Executive Conference held recently in Scottsdale, Ariz. From panel discussions and informative talks made by leading statesmen, she gained helpful information to lead the Arkansas women's group. She told of a visit to Sen. Barry Goldwater's Ham Radio Shack with a 24 hour hookup and of a visit with Mrs. Freeda Greenan of Scottsdale, formerly of Hope.

Mrs. Clarence Geist, club president, was in charge of the business meeting. Before it was adjourned, a salad plate with spiced tea or coffee were served to the members.

Be Careful in Packing Your Husband's Lunch

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Any husband whose wife packs a liverwurst or baloney sandwich more than twice a week in the lunch he carries to work is entitled to a divorce.

But a man is unlikely to run away from his home if his wife shows a little imagination in fixing him the meal he eats away.

A dog may dwell in luxury on Park Avenue, but he leads an underprivileged existence if never even once in his life he has the pleasure of scratching a flea.

Chopping up or sawing logs to warm his home has been one of man's commonplace chores for thousands of years. But so accustomed are we today to having other people do our work that a man who cuts up a fallen tree in his backyard feels he is a hero and equal to his pioneer ancestors. It is to him a feat of great virtue, and for a week he bores everybody at the office bragging about it.

A man is sometimes shaken to discover how quickly his physical condition deteriorates after 40. But no man needs to rush to a doctor—even at 80—if he can do a somersault easily or leap confidently over a three-foot-high barrier.

One of the pleasant surprises in marriage is how much a wife's advice to her husband improves after they have celebrated their silver anniversary. She has learned to separate the possible from the impossible.

Every man yearns at one time or another to become a millionaire, but today the achievement of that ambition is only another form of anonymity. Money still talks, but a million dollars doesn't shout—it only murmurs.

J.S. Bitticks Observe 70th Anniversary

By Dolph Hoehling McCallhill

Sunday, January 30, 1972 was gray and cold, but not nearly as blustery and nasty as that Sunday 70 years earlier when John Sobeski ('Sobe') Bittick braved the elements to travel from McCaskill to meet his bride-to-be, Margaret Elizabeth Reeves, at the Prescott train station. This Sunday the trip was far shorter and easier—from the J. S. Bittick house an eighth of a mile by car to Cloyd and Helen Bittick's unusual sprawling home—than the trek by horse-and-buggy to Prescott, thence to Hope and Ozan by the A&L railroad.

"The creeks were up and overflowing, and all the roads were bad that weekend of January 23-27, 1902," recalls ninety-three year old Mr. Bittick. "We planned to return home by train since the roads were so bad, but even the trains had trouble with the sleet and all: Lizzie (his bride-to-be) didn't get into Prescott from Alabama until way up in the night. I sent Della and Lola and Della's boyfriend back in the wagons, while Lizzie and I continued on the train to Hope, where she and I put up at the Ray Hotel."

You could see Sobe's frank face struggling against a grin, obviously aware of the unusual nuptial-circumstances. Not many young people even in this 'liberated' age get to be in the same hotel together without any chaperoning the night before the marriage vows are spoken. Seventy years removed from the events, the short broad-shouldered man settled back among fellow old timers and young kin alike at the McCaskill anniversary celebration and recalled how the couple spent much of their courtship separated by hundreds of miles.

His brother-in-law, Uco Gentry, on the couch beside him, Sobe Bittick's eyes sparkled and focussed on the tall still-majestic figure of his wife only a few feet away.

"I was cutting logs for a mill over around Zion (between McCaskill and Nashville) in 1900 when I first met Lizzie, who was then 18. I was boarding over there with a man and his two daughters (again that playful dance of light shone in his failing eyes)—we cut virgin timber for about four bits a thousand; I recall the two girls going to Lizzie's 18th birthday party and me asking them to bring back some cake. The Reeves were living on the Robbins' place, and Lizzie and I saw a lot of each other. When Mrs. Reeves died, Lizzie's father sent the enamored girl back to their home place in Anniston, Alabama."

Sobe shifted his legs and glanced from his large mottled hands to the watchful dark eyes of his spouse. He continued: "Oh we wrote and wrote to each other, and I can remember the summer of '01, after the crops were laid by, I went just traveling about in Oklahoma, trying to forget that girl in Alabama."

But Lizzie's letters awaited his return, and around Christmas he sent her 20 dollars for her travel to Southwest Arkansas. The elder patriarch broke off his reminiscences to greet a fellow old-timer of the area, Mr. John Bell. For a time the present festivities and flocks of well-wishers and gift-bearers organized by Helen Bittick took over from the images from the past; but diamond-white three-layered cake and other delicacies notwithstanding, some of the senior citizens found another quiet corner and told the old mirthful tales of an earlier Arkansas.

John Bell and Uco Gentry (the latter married Sobe's sister Lola), with aid from Bayles Porterfield recalled some of the incidents now become legend. They spoke of the first merchant to come into the Belton-McCaskill region. Dudley Eley, who opened a store around 1906-08:

"When everybody else took inventory once a year, Mr. Eley laughed and said, 'Why should I—when I buy for a dollar and sell for two I reckon I know what I made!' And they told of old Dr. Bell's adventures traveling by horseback throughout the countryside, and of the man who was ready to quit work and retire when he had built up a capital worth of $5.00 in cash and two new shirts."

The men were quiet for a moment and Sobe, staring into the steady flame of a modern butane heater, gazed back to those early days of marriage. After the Judge witnessed their formal union early Monday morning, January 27, 1902, the J.S. Bitticks took the train to Ozan where they were met by Frank Bittick, his father.

"We moved into a new 16-foot-square house Pappy and I built; it had a side room and a front porch and a stick and dirt chimney. Farming was good in 1902, made six bales of cotton, selling them for about 10c a pound. Man could live a long time on 30 dollars then."

The young couple moved around various places before finally settling in 1907 on what is now a gravel pit in McCaskill. There they lived, raising two children, Cloyd and Beatrice, until 1940, when the land was encompassed by the proving ground. They moved to the spot where they still reside, overlooking Highway 24.

"I remember it was after 1940 I got a raise to $4 a day, haulin' gravel in a possum-belly truck or doing carpentry work. Before that I got a dollar a day, and when Cloyd got big enough to help me, he got six bits—and that was no mere eight-hour day."

Mr. Bittick said he felt there used to be a stronger feeling of community spirit in the area: "People thought more of each other back then, used to do things together more." But relatives and friends, young and old, who gathered about the couple this past Sunday have in part given the lie to that opinion. As Sobe watched the guests departing, he caught the silent but firm signal from Lizzie.

"All right! her strong gaze said, 'we didn't make it this far foolishness up into the night. Let's go home Sobe and eat our supper and get to bed by seven.'"

Slowly rising, Mr. Bittick smiled at his great granddaughter, an infant of seven months, whose birth came nearly a century after his. Going out the door he looked up to see that the skies had cleared; his head shook a little, perhaps with the recollection of that nasty weather which did not hold him from his bride seventy years ago.

Hope Teams Win Pair of Games

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

In the last two regular season games out of town, the Hope Kittycats and Ladycats had no trouble as both squads took big leads and then emptied their benches.

This pushes the Ladycats record to 12-9, while the Kittycats now own a 15-5 slate.

With Kathy Gean Griffin getting the first period tipoff for the Kittycats in the first game, the Hope offense started out immediately with Griffin and Susan Henley recording quick field goals, and a final 42-31, victory.

Five more points widened the margin to nine points as Hope took a 12-3 lead into the second period of play.

Again the Kittycats took the ball first on the tipoff, and with Shirley Gail East and Griffin hitting free throws and jumpshots, the Hope margin increased. Right before halftime, East sunk an outside shot right before the half to bring the Kittycats to a 23-10 lead at the halfway mark.

Not letting up, the Kittycats took to the court in the second half and picked up where they left off as Griffin hit six points before East rebounded, put the ball back up, and then sank an added free throw to complete a three point play and spread the margin to 19 points, 32-13, with 2:35 left in the period.

Just over two minutes later, Griffin sank a layup to move Hope into the final period of play, leading 34-15, and from there on in the reserves emptied the Hope bench with everyone seeing action.

Griffin led the Kittycat attack with 23 points, followed by East with 15, and Susan Henley and Kim Daffern with two each.

Starting guards Janie Mae York, Melissa Reece, and Bonnie Roy deserve defensive credit with the reserves also doing well.

Minutes later it was much the same as the Ladycats took an early lead and poured it on for a final 66-47 clobber over the Red-Devils.

Getting the ball first, the Ladycats moved down the court and Cory Coleman instantly hit a jumpshot for the first points of the game. With the guards playing some fine defense, the forwards in the name of Janet McCain and Dee Singleton, kept hitting from both outside and inside, and after Coleman hit a charity shot with 30 seconds left, the Ladycats held a 20-9 margin, moving into the second period of play.

Hitting a 15 point second quarter, the Ladycats took a 35-23 halftime margin, using the shooting of Singleton and Coleman, with McCain hitting the last three points.

Grabbing the ball first in the third period, McCain quickly drew a foul and converted both ends of a two shot try and then after a stolen ball, put another two pointer in to stretch the Ladycat lead over Lewisville, 39-23.

Now everyone took turns hitting field goals and free throws as the Ladycat margin began increasing and hit the 50 point mark with 1:16 left in the period on one of McCain's free shots.

Seconds later four more quick points were put through and Hope held a 54-28, cushion, with one period to play.

As the final period moved along, the Ladycats just glided along, scoring on the shooting of Betty Rodden and Carol Hobson, while the bench was emptied with everyone seeing playing time.

McCain led Hope with 29 points, followed by Singleton with 15, Coleman hitting 12,

Last night in Jones' Field House the Hope Bobkittens took a conference victory over Malvern by the score of 47-38.

The third period saw Hope come back as they contained Malvern on defense and operated well on offense to have a 33-27 lead at the buzzer.

The fourth quarter was all Hope's as they jumped out to an eleven point lead to put it out of reach. Final score Hope 47, Malvern 38.

Johnny Harris led Hope with 22 points, followed by Marshall Scott with 9, Jimmy Rhodes had 6, Mike Hobson and James Robinson had 5 to end it. Now the Kittens will get ready for district playoffs. Their first opponent will be Camden Fairview.

Couldn't Get Past David of Dolphins

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Jacksonville Dolphins have a Goliath named David. Thursday night, the Furman Paladins couldn't sling a shot past him.

“Dave Brent played a very strong game underneath the basket and forced us to take bad shots,” said Furman Coach Joe Williams after losing to the 17th-ranked Dolphins 102-87.

You'd have a hard time, too, trying to launch basketballs over a 7-foot center.

Brent controlled the flow of the game. He blocked a dozen shots and eventually forced the Paladins to shoot from the outside, where they were less effective.

In other games Thursday night, fourth-ranked North Carolina whacked Wake Forest 71-59; No. 10 Brigham Young stopped New Mexico 70-62; 11th-ranked Marshall crushed Cleveland State 102-70 and No. 13 Southwestern Louisiana took Arkansas 87-73.

Furman took a 48-41 lead late in the first half, but Brent helped Jacksonville break it open early in the second. With the big guy helping to control the ball, Ernie Fleming hit for six points in a minute and Harold Fox later collected four straight buckets.

It was Jacksonville's second victory over Furman this week. The Dolphins whipped the Paladins 91-90 last Monday in Jacksonville.

North Carolina broke open a tight defensive game in the second half to beat tough Wake Forest behind an evenly-balanced offense paced by Bobby Jones' 13 points.

“We didn't play that badly,” said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith. “Wake Forest was just good. They were especially aggressive on the boards and kept the ball alive until they got a shot.”

Brigham Young beat New Mexico 70-62, and said with a shrug, “Well, it's a start.”

Billy Casper had a 69, George Archer and Jack Nicklaus 70s. “I didn't birdie two of the par fives and had two bogeys,” Nicklaus said. “That's how you turn a 66 into a 70.”

Defending champion Tom Shaw struggled in with a 76 and all but eliminated himself from contention.

Murphy, 28, hasn't won in almost 18 months but has played extremely well early this season. He hasn't finished lower than ninth in three starts.

“I almost shot a 60 out there today,” he said.

Murphy had seven birdies, no bogeys. He lipped out two putts, twice missed from four feet and had a couple more stop an inch short.

“I'm not doing anything different — just doing it better,” said Eichelberger, who came out of the ranks of the Monday qualifiers last season to win a tournament and more than $100,000.

He made his round with a front side 31, five under par. It included an eagle three on the first hole, which he reached with a four-wood second shot that stopped eight feet from the flag.

“I played so bad last year, I'm just trying to catch up,” said Jones, a one-time rookie of the year still gunning for his first title after four years on the tour.

“I was probably going about 160 miles an hour when I opened the chute,” Rick Sylvester, Beverly Hills, Calif., told newsmen here Tuesday. He said he performed the stunt Monday morning for movie cameras filming it from an overhead helicopter for the climactic scene in a $50,000 full-length film about skiers. Sylvester said he didn't tell Yosemite National Park rangers of his plans for fear they would stop him.

Rangers were incredulous when Sylvester later told them about his feat. But photographs released Tuesday backed up his story.

After hurtling at roughly 50 m.p.h. off the sheer granite rock's brink, Sylvester said he somersaulted backward, dropped his skis and looked down.

“The flip surprised me,” he said. “I wasn't expecting it.

Southwestern Louisiana beat Arkansas State.

“Southwestern is a great ball club,” said Arkansas State Coach John Rose. “They did what we expected them to offensively, but they were much more aggressive and much stronger than we anticipated.”

3-Way Tie for Hawaiian Meet Lead

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

HONOLULU (AP)—“That's about as good as I know how to play,” Chunky Bob Murphy said after posting a sparkling 65 for a three-way share of the top spot in the rich Hawaiian Open golf tournament.

“The last three rounds I've played, I've missed two greens by a total of four yards. That's about as good as I can play,” the red-haired Murphy reported Thursday after moving into a tie with Dave Eichelberger and Grier Jones in the $200,000 event that offers a $40,000 first prize.

They were seven under par on the beautifully conditioned Wai'alae country Club course, but only one stroke in front of another half dozen players headed by Masters champion Charles Coody.

There was some spectacularly low scoring as the strongest field of the year took advantage of the mild temperatures and near-perfect conditions. Half the field—72 players—broke par 72.

“That's what the people want to see,” said Lee Trevino, in connection with a 68. “They come out to birdies and eagles. You get your leaders shooting two or three over par and the people are going to say, ‘hell, I can do that,’ and go off and play somewhere.”

Tied with Coody were Lee Elder, Curtis Sifford, Jim Ferrell, Mark Fleckman and New Zealand's John Lister.

Arnold Palmer, making only his second start of the season, had a 67, and said with a shrug, “Well, it's a start.”

Billy Casper had a 69, George Archer and Jack Nicklaus 70s. “I didn't birdie two of the par fives and had two bogeys,” Nicklaus said. “That's how you turn a 66 into a 70.”

Russia, Netherlands Claim First Medals

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Russia and The Netherlands claimed the first gold medals at the Winter Olympic Games and the determined United States hockey team battled its way into the Class “A” competition in the first full day of action.

Ard Schenk the fleet Dutch speedskater, and Vyacheslav Vedenin, one of the Soviet Union's corps of powerful Nordic skiers, took the golds in Friday's only two medal events.

Schenk, half blinded by snow, raced to the 5,000-meter speed skating crown in 7 minutes, 23.61 seconds, slow by his standards but no easy effort in the blizzard-like conditions at the Maunaloa open air rink. Heavy snow ringed the track as Schenk zipped around the rink, little more than one second off the Olympic record of 7:22.40 set by Fred Anton Maier of Norway in the 1968 Games, but well off his own world record of 7:12.00.

Norway captured both the silver and bronze medals in the event, Roar Gronvold taking the second spot in 7:28.18 and Sen Stensen third in 7:33.39.

Schenk skated in the first pair when the wind was not as fierce as it turned out to be later. The snow was his main problem, especially in the final 1,000 meters.

“Then it began to hurt my eyes. I have seldom skated in more difficult conditions,” he said.

The best American finisher in the speed skating event was longs.

“In the past, it's been like pulling eye teeth to get seven or eight,” Lavin said of the opener.

He attributed the abundance of nominations to interest in the $100,000 Arkansas Derby, which will be run for 3-year-olds on the last day of the meeting.

The Derby purse is the largest ever for the race and double the amount set in 1971.

Aye Jay Aye, Flying Drifter and Lighting Lark, all weighted tops at 124 pounds, are favored in the Dixieland.

Jack Fieselman is to ride Aye Jay Aye and Jerry Santage is set for Lighting Lark. No jockey was assigned early to Flying Drifter.

Also entered in the feature is Our Trade Winds, which Lavin said may be the best bred colt on the grounds. However, some think 5½ furlongs is too short a race for him.

On his last outing, Our Trade Winds, running at Chicago, was last at the head of the stretch, but won going away.

Anthony Rini is scheduled to ride Our Trade Winds.

Others nominated for the feature are Hustlin Greek (114 pounds), Hemptens Son (115), Mr. Hempten (117), Sea Yarn (117), Spun Silver (114), Model Husband (114), King Hoss (114) and Mae Bob (109).

Our Trade Winds is weighted with 117.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — San Francisco 49ers' quarterback John Brodie, who threw 24 interceptions in the 1971 National Football League season, added three more in the playoff loss to Dallas.

At a banquet appearance here, Brodie said he wished to spike the rumor that after the Cowboys game “I tried to commit suicide but the bullet was intercepted.”

“I think it could be done better, though,” Sylvester said. “I opened my chute too low and landed in a tree. A better skydiver would have landed in the meadow.”

“The flip surprised me,” he said. “I wasn't expecting it.

Dan Carroll of St. Louis, who finished 10th in 7:44.72.

Vedenin, a 30-year-old soldier, hung back in the early stages of the cross-country skiing and was seventh when he made his move. He overtook Paal Tyldum of Norway to capture the gold.

A silver medalist in the 50-kilometer race of the 1968 Games, Vedenin was timed in 1 hour, 36 minutes, 31.15 seconds for the 39 kilometers which equals 18.6 miles. Tyldum's 1:37.25.30 took the silver medal and Jons Harviken of Norway earned the bronze with 1:37.32.44.

Vedenin was only the second non-Scandinavian ever to win a gold medal in individual Olympic ski racing. The best American finish was by Mike Elliott of Durango, Colo., who finished 26th in 1:43.15.03.

The U.S. hockey team, a disappointing sixth in the 1968 Games, had to earn its way into the top class for these Olympics and did it with a 5-3 victory over Switzerland.

Third period goals by Tim Sheehy and Stu Irving decided the issue for the Americans. Sheehy and Kevin Ahearn had two goals each for the U.S. team. The Americans dominated the game throughout, and outshot the Swiss team 59-18.

Coach Murray Williamson's squad had a mere 16 hours rest before swinging into Group A action against Sweden Saturday. Williamson said his young team would be underdogs the rest of the way but his players were optimistic.

“I think if we continue to play like we did today, we are going to win some more games,” said Mark Howe, 18-year-old son of ex-National Hockey League star Gordie Howe.

“If we skate like we did today,” said forward Henry Boucha, “there is no doubt we will win a medal.”

In women's figure skating, Beatrix Schuba of Austria put on a spectacular show in the first three compulsory figures, earning a perfect score of 9.0 from the nine judges to seize the early lead.

Julie Holmes of North Hollywood, Calif., second to Miss Schuba in the world championships last year, was second in unofficial judging or ordinals—or judge's placings—with 28.5 and Zsuzsa Almassy of Hungary was third with 40.5.

An Olympics official explained that the International Skating Union forbids the release of any official results until the entire compulsory program is completed Saturday.

In opening heats of men's and women's luge singles, East Germans held the leads. Wolfgang Scheidel had runs of 52.17 seconds 52.06 seconds for a combined 1:44.23 in the men's event while Anna Maria Muller clocked 45 seconds for both her runs and a combined 1:30.00. There are two more heats in both luge events.

A pair of West Germans, Wolfgang Zimmerer and Peter Utzschneider, took the halfway lead in the two-man bobsled competition. Winners of the two-man European title last month at St. Moritz, Switzerland, the two Germans sped through the icy chute in a total time of 2 minutes, 29.37 seconds to grab a solid lead over 20 other teams.

The best American clocking was 2:34.57 by Boris Said of New York and Thomas Beck of Plattsburgh, N.Y., who were 13th.

Japan's Hideki Nakano took the lead in the Nordic combined, winning the 70-meter ski jump with leaps of 269 and 266 feet for 220.5 points. The event will be completed Saturday with the 15-kilometer cross country race.

In a political development, speed skater Horst Freese, who defected from East Germany, lost his bid to compete for the West Germans.

Freese defected in 1969 and had not completed the three-year residency requirement to qualify for the West German team.

WEST HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The Floridians didn't think Rick Barry was much of a team player ... and now he takes “great satisfaction” in reminding them.

The veteran New York forward reminded them Thursday night, firing in 41 points, grabbing 10 rebounds and collecting seven assists in leading the Nets to a 122-120 victory over the Floridians in the only scheduled American Basketball Association game.

No Letdown for Bruins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Were the Boston Bruins going to suffer a let down Thursday night after their hard-fought National Hockey League victory over the New York Rangers the night before?

No way.
The powerful Bruins, with an eight-point lead in the NHL East Division race after beating the Rangers 2-0 in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night exploded for a pair of goals in the first minute and 44 seconds of play Thursday night and went on to whip the Minnesota North Stars 6-1.

The Bruins have lost only twice in their last 37 outings and their season record now stands at 36-7-8.

In other NHL games, the Rangers stayed eight points back of the Bruins by beating Buffalo 4-2, Philadelphia edged Detroit 5-4, Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 4-3 and Montreal tied Los Angeles 1-1.

The Bruins poured 47 shots at Minnesota goalie Cesare Maniago, while allowing the North Stars to take only 17 at Eddie Johnston.

Fred Stanfield put the Bruins ahead 1-0 at the 47-second mark, tipping a Bobby Orr slap shot past Maniago. Wayne Cashman made it 2-0 less than a minute later, converting the rebound of a shot by Dallas Smith.

A power play goal by Danny Grant at 14:08 ruined the shut-out bid by Johnston, but that was all Minnesota was going to get. Eddie Westfall and Johnny Bucyk scored in the second period for the Bruins, then Mike Walton and Don Marcotte tallied in the third period.

Johnston tied an NHL record with an assist on Bucyk's goal. It was his third assist of the season, tying the season record for goaltenders set by Bernie Parent in 1969 and equalled by Ken Dryden earlier this year.

Boston right wing Ken Hodge suffered a fractured right ankle in the game. He'll be out from four to six weeks.

Rod Gilbert scored on the first shot of the game to get the Rangers going. Jim Neilson, Bobby Rousseau and Pete Sternkowski also scored for New York, while Eddie Shack and Mike Byers tallied for Buffalo.

The Flyers came up with goals in the second period by Jean Guy Gendron, Bobby Clarke and Ed Joyal to down the Red Wings. Rookie Marcel Dionne scored twice for Detroit.

Bryan Hextall scored a power play goal at 12:39 of the third period to break a 3-3 deadlock and defeat the Blues. The Penguins had trailed 3-1 in the first period, but Ron Schock and Steve Cardwell tied the score and set up Hextall's tie-breaker.

Bill Chism paced the bison with 29 points, followed by freshman Tim Vick 21th 17.

Curtis Won't Return

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Although a federal court judge has restored the eligibility of denied Isaac Curtis by the National Collegiate Athletic Association's 1.6 Rule, Curtis will not return to the University of California, athletic director Dave Maggard says.

Maggard said Thursday that and Ozarks dropped to 3-9. Larry Bray of Henderson was the leading scorer in the Reddie-Warrior battle, but Hendrix managed to squeeze out the victory.

Danny Thomas scored 12 points for Hendrix. He spent most of the game on the bench in foul trouble.

Harding had five men scoring in double figures in the victory over the Scots.

Bill Chism paced the bison with 29 points, followed by freshman Tim Vick 21th 17.

LA goalie Rogation Vachon and Montreal defenseman Terry Harper both suffered apparently serious injuries in the Kings-Canadiens game.

Vachon suffered possible torn ligaments in his left knee trying to stop a shot by Larry Pleau that tied the game for Montreal in the second period. Later in the period, Harper suffered possible lacerated tendons in his right hand when he crashed into the plexiglass boards and shattered the glass.

Curtis, a junior running back in football and sprinter in track, planned to go ahead with his announced transfer to San Diego State.

Enrolling with him there next week will be Larry Brumsey, who played end on the Bears football team and who was a co-plaintiff with Curtis in the suit which resulted in a preliminary injunction against the NCAA.

Maggard said University of California lawyers disagree with NCAA officials on the meaning of U.S. District Court Judge Albert C. Wollenberg's order of Tuesday.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, had said in Kansas City Wednesday the judge's order did not lift the indefinite probation imposed on Cal last August by the NCAA Council.

Maggard said it appeared to the university lawyers "that the order does in fact affect the sanctions previously imposed ... We plan on being in communication with the NCAA very shortly to clarify the matter."

THOUGHTS

For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. —Romans 2:13.

The world is divided into people who do things and people who get the credit. Try, if you can, to belong to the first class. There's far less competition. — Dwight Morrow, diplomat.

Win Campus for Christ

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As he shaped it, the strategy was to concentrate first on centers of intellectual and occupational development—the universities—and from that influential base, to extend the movement throughout the world.

"Win the campus for Christ today," the keynote went. "Win the world for Christ tomorrow."

That is the huge-scale vision which 20 years ago impelled William R. Bright, a onetime businessman, to start a venture which today is flourishing on 450 campuses and spreading into a variety of other environments.

It's called the Campus Crusade for Christ International. Bright, its founder and president, says: "I believe we're now moving into a time of the Spirit of God doing something new in our day. We're well into the first phase of the greatest spiritual awakening since Pentecost."

That, as described in the New Testament, was when a holy effusion, like the wind, filled the early apostles and swept Jerusalem, drawing thousands of many nations into faith.

Bright, 49, a warmly engaging man whom associates inevitably call "Bill," cites the fast multiplying dimensions of the movement and exudes confidence in its globe-encompassing goal.

"We can't do it alone—we're only leaves on the twigs of the branch of love," he said in an interview. "But it's bursting out all over. Thousands of Christians are ready to do whatever they need to do to accomplish it."

"We believe that the United States will be saturated by the gospel of Jesus Christ by 1976 and that by 1980 the whole world will have been saturated by it so that everyone will have heard the most joyful news ever announced."

To augment the process, Campus Crusade this summer boosted its full-time staff from 2,400 up to 3,000 young men and women, encouraging belief and conducting follow-up studies on campuses mostly in this country, but now also in 45 other nations.

The organization, with an annual budget of $12 million, larger than that of some major denominations, also is expanding work into high schools, the military and athletic areas, and in a series of training conferences for laymen and pastors. About 300,000 have been trained as evangelists at such conferences in the last two years.

Dramatizing the stepped-up drive, a massive student congress on evangelism is set for Dallas, Tex., next June 12-17, with 100,000 expected to attend daily training sessions and nightly rallies in the Cotton Bowl. Called, "EXPLO '72," it's aim is to ignite an explosion of faith.

Bright said the gathering will launch a chain of additional conferences across the country to train 500,000 more workers in the cause. The goal is 10,000 full-time staff members by 1976, and five million other volunteers.

Help HIM Measure Up

Every man can help some boy to measure up; to keep his feet on the ground, his heart courageous and his compass pointed to the tasks ahead. And if it is my boy you have helped, I shall be everlastingly glad. Every father will join me in saying, "God Bless You." Best of all, the Heavenly Father will know and be quick to say, "My Son saved a world, and who knows what the son you help will do for good." Boys clubs and concerned women and men are contributing time and wealth to help your boy and mine start right. Every man can hold his head higher if he can remember that he helped a boy measure up to his true potential.

Bumpers Adds to Agenda of Legislative Session

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers Thursday added six items to his call for a special legislative session beginning Monday and changed the time for convening the session from 9 a.m. to noon.

The supplement did not include legislation dealing with the controversial merger involving Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff.

The governor has been under pressure from students and alumni from the predominantly Negro college at Pine Bluff to include a review of the scheduled July 1 merger of the college with the University of Arkansas.

Bumpers did include in the supplement a bill that would permit the state to take advantage of possible increased federal funding of sewer improvement projects.

The supplemental proclamation brings to 46 the number of items the legislature will consider.

The major item in the supplement is a bill to empower the state Board of Finance to issue up to $10 million in revenue bonds to provide local governmental units with grants that may be used to match federal dollars to finance water and waste disposal improvements.

The federal government now will fund 60 per cent of the cost of such projects. Under one bill pending in Congress, the government would provide 10 per cent more funds if the state would put up 10 per cent of the cost. Another bill under consideration by Congress would increase federal participation by 15 per cent if the state would pay 15 per cent.

Another item in the supplemental call would grant specific authority to the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services to carry out a plan outlined Friday by Director Roger B. Bost to use the Booneville Tuberculosis Sanatorium to prepare mentally retarded adults for living in their communities under another program Bumpers has proposed to expand mental health services in the community.

Bumpers also proposes that the General Assembly consider the adoption of appropriate resolutions to change the journal entries of the 1971 regular session to reflect the entire working of two proposed constitutional amendments the legislature voted to submit to voters in the general election this year.

Garry Brewer, an aide to Bumpers, said the proposed amendments were not written out word for word in the journals. Brewer said the governor included the item to remove any question about the legality of the proposals.

The governor also asked the legislature to adopt a law would provide that military service pay and accrued leave payments would not count against a newly discharged service man's eligibility to draw unemployment compensation.

Another supplemental item would amend Arkansas law to treat business corporations and professional corporations with 10 stockholders or less for state income tax purposes in the same manner as they are covered under federal law.

The other new item would authorize the state personnel director to adjust salaries of state employees whom he finds were reated inequitably by implementation of the state compensation plan as revised by the 1971 legislature.

Ambulance Service Expanded

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has decided to make permanent and expand to 14 more states a free aerial ambulance service using military helicopters to aid accident victims in rural areas.

The project is an outgrowth of an experiment set up in five western states in 1970. Army and Air Force helicopters taking part in it had flown 915 patients on 704 mercy flights as of last October. About half of those assisted were injured in traffic accidents.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Thursday the experiment proved successful and that within a few weeks the departments of Transportation, Defense and Health, Education and Welfare will announce "a very much expanded program."

Pentagon sources said 29 Army and Air Force installations in 19 states—including the five states where the project is already underway—have been designated as operating centers for the aerial ambulance service known as MAST, or Military Assistance to Safety and Traffic.

Pentagon officials said the bases have the equipment and medical personnel for the job, but before they begin operating they must insure that no commercial helicopter ambulance service is already provided.

In addition, local law-enforcement agencies will be required to provide the communications equipment needed, and landing facilities will have to be provided at or near hospitals.

The military ambulances will serve only those communities within a 100-mile radius of their base that have requested the service through the Transportation Department.

These requirements are intended to avoid further criticism from private helicopter companies, who, according to a government study of MAST, view the project as "an encroachment ... into what they consider to be the domain of private enterprise."

MAST was first proposed by Laird in 1969 as a way of applying lessons learned in Vietnam to use in treating accident victims in this country.

The death rate from wounds received in combat in Vietnam has been cut to near zero by using helicopters to evacuate men to hospitals for quick treatment.

MAST was first tried at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., and the experiment was later put into Luke Air Force Base, Ariz.; Ft. Carson, Colo.; Mountain Home AFB, Idaho and Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Florida Voting on Bus Issue

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida voters may get a chance to express their feelings on school busing at the same time they vote for presidential primary candidates, under a bill approved by a state Senate committee Thursday.

The measure, which won the 5-0 backing of the Senate judiciary Civil B Committee, calls for a straw vote referendum on the busing issue on the March 14 presidential ballot.

Although the question to be put to voters—asking them if they favor a federal antibusing amendment—would have no actual legal impact, it would come at a time "when the eyes of the nation will be on Florida," said Charles Weber, R-Fort Lauderdale, a sponsor.

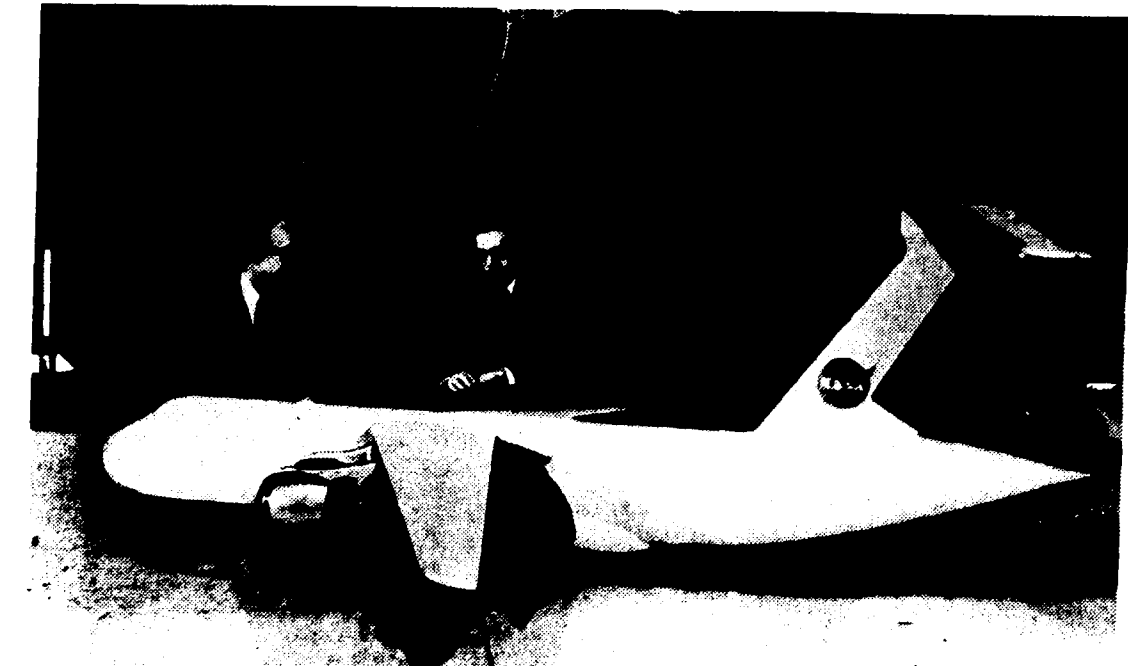

The measure was sent directly from the committee to the Senate floor for action. Sponsors are attempting to rush it through because Secretary of State Richard Stone has stated nothing new may be placed on the March 14 ballot after Feb. 18.

If both houses pass the bill in time, and barring a gubernatorial veto, voters would be confronted with this question in voting machines throughout the state: "Do you favor an amendment to the U.S. Constitution that would prohibit forced busing and guarantee the right of every student to attend the appropriate public school nearest his home?"

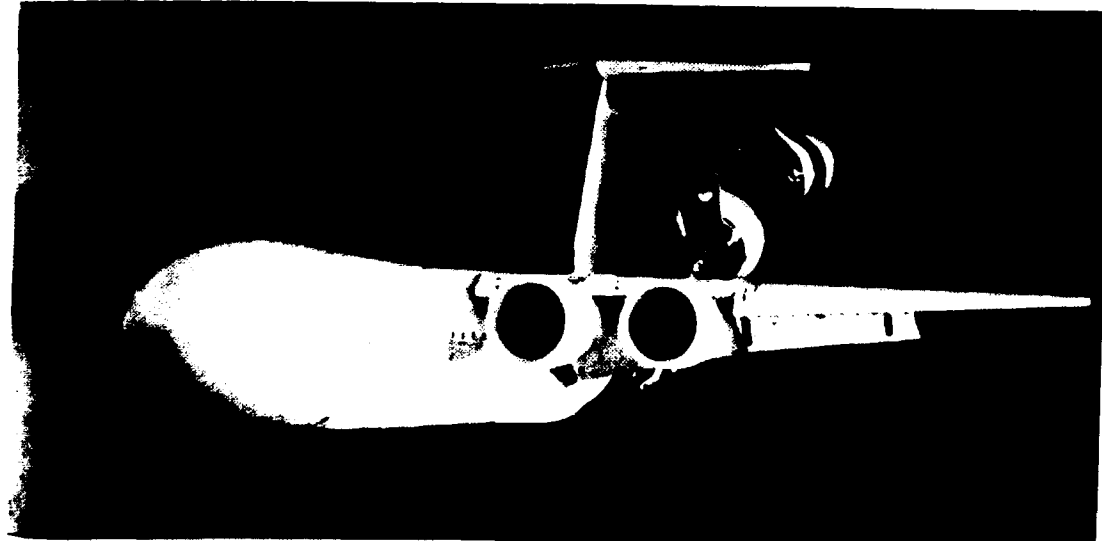

Sen. Mallory Horne, D-Tallahassee, chairman of the committee that gave the bill its unanimous sendoff Thursday, predicted 85 per cent of the vote would be "yes."

"Forced busing has broken the backbone of our school system," said Horne.

The total land area of Prince Edward Island is 2,184 square miles.

Hopeful Grain Plan Will Boost Soybeans

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department policy engineers are hoping a new optional plan for feed-grain producers will help boost soybean acreages this year above what farmers say they will plant.

Farmers indicated in a special survey last month that they intend to plant 44.3 million acres to soybeans for harvest this year. Although a record, the intended plantings are only 1.2 million acres more than last year.

Top USDA planners were hoping for at least a 4 million-acre increase from 1971 and preferably around 5 million.

A new feed-grain program option announced this week will allow farmers to cut corn and sorghum plantings below 1971 acreages in return for higher government payments on additional land taken from 1972 production.

On part of the acres taken from corn and sorghum, farmers will be allowed to plant other crops, those not subject to federal controls. Soybeans, at least in the midwestern Corn Belt, are considered a prime alternative.

The department is not making official predictions on how much soybean acreage might be increased as a result of the feed-grain option. But a report on the fats and oil situation, issued after the feed plan was announced on Wednesday, said the option "likely will have some effect" on the 1972 soybean acreage.

Meantime, although down 4 per cent from 1970-71, large soybean demand and tight supplies are keeping prices at the farm level strong. The report said prices paid farmers for 1971-crop beans probably will average around $3 a bushel, the highest season price since 1947-48.

The department will issue its regular yearly plantings report March 16. It will reflect possible changes in feed-grain and soybean acreages as a result of farmers enrolling in 1972 programs.

The sign-up period began Wednesday at county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and runs through March 10.

Cherry Valley Bank Robbed

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — The FBI said that a search was continuing today for four men who robbed the Bank of Cherry Valley of more than $30,000 Thursday afternoon. Cherry Valley is located 12 miles north of here.

FBI agents said a preliminary audit showed $30,311 was taken.

Emmett Milam, an assistant cashier, said four men entered the bank and told all the employees to lie on the floor. There was no customer in the bank at the time, Milam said, although one did enter while the robbery was in progress.

Milam said the men forced Howard Beasley, executive vice president of the bank, to fill a paper sack with money.

State Police took two men into custody at Hardol's Corner, northwest of Wynne, shortly after the robbery, but they were later released, officers said.

No one was injured during the holdup.

Cities to Get Cable TV

By JERRY BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has granted cable television operators limited rights to import nonlocal television signals into the nation's largest cities as long as the imported programs do not duplicate those being shown by local stations.

Thus, in a comprehensive set of rules issued Thursday, the FCC in a 4-2 vote took the middle ground on the major issue of controversy between cable operators and broadcasters.

The new rules will permit established stations in the major markets to retain control over program materials, holding the line to a considerable extent on cable TV's development in the big cities. At the same time cable TV will be able to expand in the nation's rural areas and smaller cities.

But FCC Commissioner Nicholas Johnson, a key force behind liberalization of cable regulations, objected to the new rules. Johnson charged that White House officials, FCC Chairman Dean Burch and leaders of the film, cable and television industry railroaded the rules through the commission.

Johnson was joined by Commissioner Robert E. Lee, who said the rules had been presented only to the largest parties involved, "perhaps in violation of the legal requirements of the Administrative Procedures Act."

Cable operators have maintained there should be no restrictions on which signals they carry, even if it meant giving customers the options of tuning in the same program on more than one channel.

But that position has been strongly opposed by broadcasters, who feared losses in advertising revenue by having the audience for network or syndicated programs split among more than one station.

Peacock Revolution Is Fashion Victim

By ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — They called it the Peacock Revolution when flamboyance hit men's fashion in the 1960s. But the peacock has tucked in its tailfeathers—a victim of what one fashion leader calls "too-muchism."

Men who were shocked, then excited and finally frustrated by that flood of new ideas in the 1960s are now getting some calm.

Something of a purge is on and already gone are the cascading scarves, trailing fringe, enormous belts, electric colors and giant windowpane plaid suits.

The gimmicks have vanished, and the "return to elegance" has begun. Shapes are simpler. Colors are quieter. Large patterns have given way to the smaller and more precise. The three-piece suit along with the white shirt and button-down collar has been resurrected. "Old favorites" such as madras, herringbones and checks are on the move.

"The peacock isn't dead. He's just stopped screaming," said Ken O'Keefe, fashion director of the Men's Fashion Association of America.

William Keegan, president of Gant Shirtmakers, agreed. "Man is still a fashion animal," Keegan said. "He's not going to go bland. We went through an era of too-muchism. But that doesn't mean we're going to too-littleism."

The peacock look took shape in the mid-1960s, according to O'Keefe, when the Carnaby Street fashions hit the United States.

It produced such manifestations as the fancy Edwardian look, the disastrous Nehru jacket and the Wild West image complete with leather chaps.

The impact was farflung. Bankers even broke the white collar tradition and turned to bright stripes. Stockbrokers traded their thin ties for wider, splashier versions.

At the extremes were psychodelic sues, floor-length capes and yards of lunatic fringe.

Extremism and too many choices left everyone exhausted.

"The entire industry has come to realize that the male customer doesn't want fashions that change so rapidly. Evolution not revolution," said James K. Wilson, executive vice president of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, a large clothing manufacturer.

For 1972 jackets have been sheared of flaps, vents, tucks and pleats. Designers are no longer thrashing around for a radically new shape like the jumpsuits, shirt-suits, sleeveless suits, ad infinitum.

Now the silhouette has been stabilized, retaining the best innovation of the 1960s: wider lapels, shaped waist and straight or slightly flared pants.

Forget Those Pretty Legs

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Don't be fooled by your instructor's pretty legs, Ron Watkins advises fellow Michigan State University students in his book, "The MSU Professor Rating and Coloring Book."

The 33-page guide offers 387 thumbnail sketches of faculty members.

"She has nice legs ... but should rely more on what's in her head than what's on her lecture notes," he says of one instructor.

Watkins writes another professor "must be a genius—he's over everyone's head," and another "lectures like a used car salesman."

Watkins, 28, a senior majoring in communication, says the sketches were drawn from professor rating forms he distributed to students last fall.

Watkins admits his book "may not be a completely accurate guide, but it should serve its intended purpose—a stimulus to students and teachers."
